EMSI has been in the business of helping businesses and government agencies train and prepare for everyday and catastrophic emergencies since 1995. Weet Baldwin, who leads the staff of professional educators, has had successes in fire and accident prevention and paramedics. He is the retired Chief Tactical Medic for the Richmond Police SWAT Team and former Medical Coordinator for NASCAR and IRL events at the Richmond International Raceway. EMSI has no relevant financial relationships to disclose relating to the content of this presentation. The VSOMS Executive Director does not have any financial arrangements or affiliations to disclose relating to the content of this presentation.

Course Description:

The American Heart Association's Advanced Cardiovascular Life Support course is totally redesigned for healthcare providers who either direct or participate in the resuscitation of a patient, whether in or out of hospital. The teaching method involves lecture, however, ACLS is based on simulated clinical scenarios that encourage active, hands-on participation through learning stations.

Educational Objectives:

Through the ACLS course, providers will enhance their skills in the treatment of the adult victim of a cardiac arrest or other cardiopulmonary emergencies. ACLS emphasizes the importance of basic life support CPR to patient survival; the integration of effective basic life support with advanced cardiovascular life support interventions; and the importance of effective team interaction and communication during resuscitation.

At each learning station, students will practice essential skills individually, as part of a team, and as team leader. Realistic simulations reinforce the following key concepts: proficiency in basic life support care; recognizing and initiating early management of peri-arrest conditions; managing cardiac arrest; identifying and treating ischemic chest pain and acute coronary syndromes; recognizing other life-threatening clinical situations (such as stroke) and providing initial care; ACLS algorithms; and effective resuscitation team dynamics.

Continuing Education for the ACLS Course

The Virginia Dental Association is an ADA CERP Recognized Provider. ADA CERP is a service of the American Dental Association to assist dental professionals in identifying quality providers of continuing dental education. The Opioid Epidemic and Management of Acute Pain In OMFS: Where We Were and Where We Need to Be

Saturday, February 24, 2024

2:30 p.m.-4:30 p.m.

Continuing Education Credits: 2

Fee: $25

Presenter: Dr. A. Omar Abubaker

Dr. A. Omar Abubaker, DMD, PhD is a graduate of the School of Dental Medicine, the School of Dentistry, University of Pittsburgh. He completed his residency training and a fellowship in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery from Presbyterian University Hospital in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He has been on the Faculty at VCU School of Dentistry and VCU Medical Center since 1991. He currently serves as professor and Chairman of the Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, VCU School of Dentistry, Chief of the Division of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, Department of Surgery School of Medicine. He is certified by the American Board of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery. He is a practicing Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeon and authored two textbooks, over 100 chapters and scientific articles. He maintains an active intramural private practice in addition to his teaching and administrative responsibilities. Dr. Abubaker recently earned a Graduate Certificate in International Addiction Studies from the International Program in Addiction Studies from Virginia Commonwealth University, The University of Adelaide, Australia and Kings College London, England. He has an interest in education and research in the field of addiction.

Course Description: This lecture course will review the history of the opioid epidemic and substance abuse disorder in the United States and provide an overview of the future relationship between dentistry and managing patients with SUD. The presentation will also review the elements of the Virginia Board of Dentistry regulations pertaining to opioid prescribing. The course material will also present evidence-based pain management for postoperative dental pain. Dr. Abubaker has no financial arrangement or affiliations to disclose relating to the content of this presentation. The VSOMS Executive Director does not have any financial arrangements or affiliations to disclose relating to the content of this presentation.

By the end of the course, attendees should:

- Better understand the history of the opioid epidemic in the US and dentistry's role in the epidemic.
- Be familiar with the essential principles of opioid prescribing in the US and by dentists and OMFS.
- Remember the elements of the VA Board of Dentistry regulations on opioid prescribing.
- Understand the evidence-based pain management for postoperative dental pain management.
- Recognize what is next in the relationship between dentistry and managing patients with SUD.

Course Description:

The American Heart Association's PALS Course reflects new science in the 2020 AHA Guidelines Update for CPR and ECC. This classroom, Instructor-led course uses a series of videos and simulated pediatric emergencies to reinforce the important concepts of a systematic approach to pediatric assessment, basic life support, PALS treatment algorithms, effective resuscitation, and team dynamics. The goal of the PALS Course is to improve the quality of care provided to seriously ill or injured children, resulting in improved outcomes. The course is a hands-on class format to reinforce proficiency.

Educational Objectives:

Through the PALS course, providers will review realistic, clinical scenarios delivered through actual pediatric patient videos and lifelike simulations.

Course Directors will lecture and provide hands-on instruction on a systematic approach to assess and treat pediatric patients in emergency situations. The course is broken into sections that include an update and course overview, BLS practice and competency testing, resuscitation team concept, coping with death, and an overview of pediatric assessment. It will end with a course summary and a final written exam.
